

IGE Press Release

September 25, 2014

<The 228th IGE Distinguished Lecture Forum>

Speaker: Bob Davis (1999 Pulitzer Recipient)

Senior Editor of Chinese Economy, The Wall Street Journal

Topic: “China’s Economy and Anti-Corruption Drive”

Time and Date: 07:00-9:00, Friday, September 26, 2014

Venue: Maple Room, 4th Floor, The Plaza Hotel

Sponsored by Samsung Electronics

The Institute for Global Economics will host Mr. Bob Davis, senior editor of Chinese economy, The Wall Street Journal, to speak on the current state and prospect of China’s economy and President Xi Jinping’s Anti-Corruption Drive. He will also share his views on their implications for the global economy, the Korean economy included.

The lecture will be attended by distinguished academics, researchers, policymakers, financial leaders and businessmen, diplomatic corps and journalists.

The 228th IGE Distinguished Lecture Forum is sponsored by Samsung Electronics.